Dear Jake,

The decision to license Central Mexican was initially made in 1970. After Seccion was formed, we reaffirmed our position that Central was our sole licensee and (in 1987 through 1990) worked with them to ensure that their exclusive licensing position was properly documented, and would enable them to protect the license in their own name.

These decisions were made in the mid-80's and we are not aware of the discussion that took place. However, the action seems completely consistent with our decades-long "sole license" policy.

Sincerely,

/s/
