This letter is to keep you up to date on our activities, and to avoid controversy and misunderstanding.

Attached is the text of letters to General Service Offices offering our services as a supplier of printed materials.

It is not our intent to confuse, unfairly compete, or violate copyrights and trademarks. The books will be supplied in compliance with the provisions of copyright and trademark agreements that exist between your organization and the selected General Service Office.

The material supplied will be for the exclusive use by the selected General Service Office.

Thank you for your continuing interest in our affairs.
